

The Latest News from the North.

There was not much of importance from Pennsylvania on the 24th. It was stated that the rebels had destroyed all the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad bridges for seventy miles west of Harper's Ferry.

Pittsburg has made ample preparations for the invaders, and the people are over their scare.

The buildings left by our army in their evacuation of Aquia Creek have been burned by the rebels. These buildings consisted of numerous rough barracks, used by the quartermaster's department.

A report that the rebels are blockading the Lower Potomac to prevent navigation is believed to be untrue.

The Surgeon General has just commenced the work of making out a complete list of all soldiers who have died during the present war. The list is intended to embrace every death in the regular and volunteer forces, and to give the name, rank, regiment, company, cause of death, date of death and place of death.

Gen. Grant has telegraphed to headquarters as follows: "Everything progresses well here. Johnson's forces are at Yazoo City, Brownsville and Clinton. Deserters come in daily. They all report rations short. We scarcely ever lose a man now. The health and condition of the troops are most excellent."

The correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, writing from near Vicksburg on the 18th, says, "it was intended to open with hot shot upon the city on the 20th."

So great has been the progress of the organization of the Invalid Corps in the city of New York that arrangements have been made to have its members do provost-guard duty.

The pirate Tacony is making great havoc among the fishing vessels of Massachusetts. The pirate had destroyed six schooners and three ships, all belonging to Gloucester. One schooner, arrived at Chatham on the 23d, reports seeing the schooner Florence off Chatham light with one hundred and fifty prisoners, put aboard by the Tacony. On the 24th a schooner arrived at Newport, R. I., which had that day spoken the Western Light with a deck load of men, put on board by the Tacony. The captain reports that four other vessels had preceded him to New York, loaded with men from the destroyed fishermen. The pirate had destroyed upwards of a dozen sail of vessel on the 23d and 24th, all fishermen, which he fell in with back of Martha's Vineyard, taking everything of value from them, and then setting them on fire.

Gen. Joe Johnston is so much pressed for men that he has issued orders granting a full pardon to all deserters in his department who will rejoin their commands immediately.

General Franklin has tendered his services to Governor Curtin in any capacity he might think proper to place him.

Commander Spotts has been ordered to Port Royal to relieve Commander Alma in command of the steamer South Carolina; also, Commander Williamson, to take command of the steamer Flag, at the same place.

"Marshal Kane," of Baltimore, has gone to Dixie, entered the rebel army, and his friends say that he has been made one of Jeff's Major-Generals.

Another rebel force, nine hundred in number, has crossed into Indiana, and had reached Paoli, Orange county. Their purpose seems to be to attack the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad.

Vallandigham has run the blockade from Wilmington. He is going to Nassau, thence to Canada.

The sixth company of the first regiment of colored volunteers, raised in and about the District of Columbia, was mustered into the service on the 21st. It is expected that the regiment will be full within a fortnight.

The Tribune of the 25th says, Admiral Foote was no better.

Commodore Foxhall A. Parker has been ordered to the command of the screw frigate Wabash, of the South Atlantic Blockading Squadron.

A loyal sister of Stonewall Jackson is mentioned in current news. She was much depressed by her brother's death, but thought this a fate preferable to being disloyal. General Lee, it has been also told, has a daughter in North Carolina, exiled from her friends on account of her sincere loyalty.

Hon. Jno. A. Bingham, of Ohio, has been appointed United States District Judge for the District of Florida, vice Judge Marvin resigned. It is doubtful if he will accept.

The New Commander of the South Atlantic Fleet.

Admiral John A. Dahlgren, the successor of Admiral Du Pont in command of the South Atlantic Fleet, has been for some time Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance, and has been 37 years an officer in the Navy. He entered the service on the 1st of February 1826, in the regular manner, was class-mate with Capt. Craven, Turner, Radford, Rowan, Drayton, and Sands. On the naval register for 1863, he ranks 15th on the list of Captains, all the Rear Admirals, Admirals, all the Commodores, and 14 Captains being above him. The sea service, to his credit, is less than that of any other officer in the Navy, except three or four. Admiral Dahlgren is a native and citizen of Pennsylvania, from which State he was appointed. The invention of the somewhat celebrated gun which bears his name, procured for him the distinguished position he has occupied in the Ordnance Department of the service for several years. He is very fond of gunnery, and has made many improvements in arming vessels-of-war.

Fourth of July Celebration.

The officers of the Fifty-second Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, assisted by officers from all the other Regiments at this Post, propose celebrating our National anniversary, in the Grove, on Beaufort Green. The military and citizens of the Island are respectfully invited to attend and participate on the occasion. The meeting will be organized at 10 o'clock A. M., precisely.

PROGRAMME.

The celebrating of the day will be opened with Prayer, by the Rev. Mr. GRIES.
Reading Declaration of Independence.
Orations.
Prayer and Benediction.
The whole to conclude with the following budget of fun, to which the Military generally are invited to participate:
Climbing greased pole—$5 to be placed on top of the pole, to be given to the man who reaches it.
Sack race—$5 to winner. Distance fifty yards.
Wheelbarrow race—(blindfolded)—$5 to winner; $2.50 to second. Distance, one hundred yards.
Jumping match—running and standing jump, without weights, $5 to the man who makes the best jump both ways; $2.50 to second best.
Foot race—one hundred and fifty yards; ten men to make a race; not less than five to start. $5 to winner. Time will be taken.
To conclude with a grand chase after a greased pig.

By order of the Committee of Arrangements.
GEORGE H. STERLING, Secretary.

Gen. Hayne writes from Gallatin to Gen. Rosecrans that he has devised and put into effect a plan of changing slave labor. Male negroes are hired out at $8 and females at $5 per month—to their former masters. Written contracts to this effect are entered into. The plan is working admirably, and Gen. Payne says that the overseers declare they never had so much work done nor half so well done before.

This is the newest of the free labor experiments, and apparently the happiest in results. Gen. Rosecrans hates slavery worse than Gen. Banks, or Gen. Thomas, and will see that the freedmen have fair play in his department.

THE PANIC IN PITTSBURGH—WHERE THE GOLD IS.—The advance of the rebels has developed one fact which has been a mystery to the people for some time, viz: What has become of the gold coin?—Fearing an attack, the bankers and others of Pittsburg thought it prudent to remove their coin, and the American Express Company delivered in Cleveland on the 15th inst. $15,000,000 in gold, and on the succeeding day $7,000,000 more, of which $650,000 was also in gold.

Vice President Stephens has expressed his conviction that the confederate experiment is a failure, and that all hopes of its ultimate success have long since vanished. It is also asserted that many influential men in Georgia are in favor of a reconstruction of the Union.

The Board to examine applicants for commands in negro regiments have passed as competent, and recommended for appointment, Corp. Wilson W. Brown of the 21st Ohio the engineer who piloted Gen. Mitchell's secret expedition into Georgia, and who, with most of his comrades, was captured and barbarously treated by rebel authorities. He will probably be commissioned Colonel of a negro regiment.

The women of East Tennessee are full of faith in the Union cause. Refugees report that the matrons and even the girls in all that section will stand true to the last; all they ask is arms and ammunition, and they will fight their own battles. It is said that three Union women recently killed two rebels with a pitchfork and spade, and wounded the third.

Expeditions into Louisiana and Alabama.

A correspondent of the Boston Traveler gives full particulars of the late expedition under Colonel Chickering in Western Louisiana, by which immense stores and thousands of negroes were rescued from rebel horsemen. The results as given by this correspondent are as follows:

Six thousand negroes came into our hands, five hundred plantation wagons, three thousand mules and horses, besides a fabulous number of cattle. While the Forty-first Massachusetts were stationed at Berrie's Landing, five thousand bales of cotton were sent from that point, besides immense quantities of sugar and molasses, and it is estimated that upwards of ten thousand negroes have been sent from Berrie's Landing to Braashear city and Algiers. All of these negroes are exceedingly eager to fight for their freedom, and I have often seen the tears rolling silently down their sable cheeks when the examining surgeon, after inspecting them, pronounced them physically worthless for active service in the field. Nothing is more false and ridiculously absurd than the statements of northern copperheads that the negro will not fight, will not labor without the cruel lash, is of too indolent a nature naturally to support himself.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette furnishes the following in reference to Gen. Dodge's recent expedition into Alabama:

On his return Gen. Dodge literally swept the country of provisions and forage, live stock and negroes. It is estimated that he burned 1,500,000 bushels of corn, much of which was shelled for transportation to the army; captured and destroyed 500,000 pounds of bacon; captured 1000 head of horses and mules, and an equal number of cattle, hogs and sheep, besides supplying the whole command with meat for three weeks. He also burned every flat-boat from Savannah to Decatur, on the Tennessee, destroyed the railroad and telegraph between Tusculumbia and Decatur, burned five tan yards, six flourishing mills, and, finally, afforded the means of escape for 1500 blacks.
